Home Away from Home

These days, a hotel isn't the only choice. There are many other places where you can sleep.

Hostel

Hostels aren't as comfortable as hotels. They don't have swimming pools and nice restaurants. Most of the time, you have to share a room or bathroom. However, they are much cheaper than hotels. They are also very friendly places. You meet lots of people and can make new friends. Many hostels even have kitchens. You can save money by cooking your own food. And hostels aren't just for young people anymore. Older people stay in them, too!

Bed and Breakfast (B&B)

A bed and breakfast, or B&B, is another great choice. A B&B usually looks just like a regular house. You sleep in one of the bedrooms and you get breakfast in the morning. Most B&Bs are family-run, so staying in one will be like living at home. Sometimes you even eat with the family that owns the house. You can learn a lot about the culture of the country and have a great time. Some B&Bs are expensive and some are cheap. It's up to you how much money you want to spend.

Airbnb

Airbnb is one of the most popular forms of travel accommodation today. Using the Airbnb website or mobile app, a host can list their property. Then, travelers can book whichever property catches their eye. The properties can be single rooms, apartments, houseboats, or even castles! Airbnb properties oftentimes offer better amenities than hotels, such as full kitchens, bicycles, kayaks, pools, and more. This modern hospitality service could be your ticket to a great vacation.

YOUR TURN

- What accommodation type would you prefer? Why?
- What is the best hotel you have ever stayed at?
